TO MOVE CROPS THIS FALL.

TREASURY PREPARATIONS TO PREVENT MONEY STRINGENCY.

Porty-nine Million More Pieces of Paper Money Than Were Available a Year Ago-Western Money Centres Getting Small Bills -- Big Wheat and Corn Crop.

WASHINGTON Aug. 12.-The prospect of moving to market more than 3,000,000,000 bushels of corn and wheat this fall, not to consider other crops, which are phenomenally large, has led the Treasury officials to consider the circulating medium that will be required for this great undertaking. It is apparent to them from the figures published by the Agricultural Department yesterday, that the combined corn and wheat crops alone will exceed by nearly a billion bushels the crop of last year Secretary Shaw said to-day that the Treasury was making preparations to meet the demand from Western banking centres for notes of small denominations to provide for the crop-moving period. United States Treasurer Roberts said that the Treasury was never so well equipped to meet these demands as now, and that the outlook was most encouraging, with no sign of a distressing stringency in the money market.

Two years ago when the corn crop was very large the crop-moving season was a period of great stringency in the money centres, and it was seen then that measures must be devised to avert a repetition of the stringent condition of money. Last year, on account of the severe midsummer drought, the corn crop was light, and the season of moving crops passed without any severe tax upon the country's circu-lating medium. Now the prospect is that the corn crop will be a record breaker, while the wheat crop is certainly above

The preparations for this crop-moving season have been going on for nearly a year. In anticipation of large crops the Treasury has had a large number of notes of small denominations printed and the increased output from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing has gone on so stead-ily that the total volume of paper currency hand is now $591,580,000 as against $526, on hand is now $591,050,000 as against 226,000; the number of separate pieces of paper money on June 30, 1902, was 136,721,000 as against 87,111,000 a year ago; so the largely in notes of increase is seen to be largely in notes of small denominations. The increase repre-sents in large proportion notes of $20 and umber of fives and tens hav-shipments of paper currency of small denominations are now being made from the Treasury to Chicago and other money centres in the West adjacent to the crop areas. During this calendar year the ship-ments of this kind have amounted to $5,845,-990 as against $3,900,000 in the same period

The volume of circlustion throughout the country has increased during the last year by a large amount. On the first of last July the total circulation was $2,260. 750,242, or nearly $200,000,000 more than it was at the end of the fiscal year 1901. There is a slightly unfavorable sign, however, in the fact that the total circulation declined during the past two months by about $6,000,000. This is regarded as only a drop in the bucket when the great volume of the country's paper currency is considered.

It was thought at one time that the with-drawal of circulation by the national banks would have an adverse effect on the money market during the crop-moving season There were withdrawals in the last fisca year amounting to more than $20,000,000. the cause being, as the Secretary of the Treasury believed, the advanced price of Government bonds which made it more profitable for the banks to withdraw their bonds from the Treasury than to keep them there as security for their own circulating notes. Within the past few months, how-ever, there has been a great increase in national bank circulation secured by lawful money in the Treasury. The net increase in national bank notes has, in fact, kept pace with the increased volume of the genrency. Last week national banks from the Treasury $350,000 worth of bonds, but there were deposited in the Treasury in the same week, $1,148,050 to Treasury in the same week, $1,148,050 to secure circulation. The amount of bonds held by the Treasury for the security of bank circulation on the 30th of June last was $317,088,580, us against $326,119,530 a year before; but much of the circulation for bonds withdrawn during that period is still outstanding against the cash paid into the Treasury. Incidentally, this fact action in suspending the bond purchases inaugurated by his predecessor has not had the bad effect on national bank circulation that some critics said it had. The Treasury officials are naturally hopeful that there will be no necessity for the Treasury to come to the aid of the banks by extraordinary deposits of Federal revenues or by any other measure during the coming crop moving season. The increased deposits of Federal money during the past few months ought to be of assistance, the officials believe, in relieving any danger of a stringency.

The deposits of this kind are now $119,-002,515, as against $106,390,363 at the ginning of the present calendar year.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPH PATENTS. Fessenden Protects the Apparatus Favored by Government.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 .- To-day's issue of the Patent Office Gazette contains record of thirteen patents on apparatus for the transmission of messages by wireless telegraphy granted to Reginaid H. Fessenden, an ex-pert of the Weather Bureau in Washington. The patents include a device for signalling by magnetic waves, a current actuated wave responsive device, and a conductor for a wireless telegraphy apparatus. The ap-paratus for which patents have been granted to Mr. Fessenden was used by the Government in the competitive tests of wireless systems held on the Carolina coast some time ago, in which the Government apparatus proved to be superior to all other systems tried.

Rare Book Lost by Clerk.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. An old and rare volume of considerable value has been lost from the Congressional Library, and two detectives of the local bureau are trying to find it. The book is "Captain Cook's Three Voyages to the Pacific Ocean," published in Boston in 1797. Last Friday August Schauster, a Government clerk, took the book to his home by permission. He was sitting on the veranda of his house reading it and laid it in a chair while he went into the house and when he returned it was gone. The officers of the library say that it will be very difficult and perhaps impossible. to replace the book.

Special Cable Desputch to THE SUN. LONDON, Aug. 12.-The King received the colonial Premiers before the colonial review to-day and presented gold coronation medals to them.

The review of the colonial troops was brilliant ceremony. It was a full dress State function and took place in the beautiful gardens of Buckingham Palace. Members of the English royal family, the Prime Ministers of the colonies, the Indian Princes and several of the nobility, and practically all the coronation guests were present.

The troops, numbering in all about 1,900, arrived at the palace at 3 o'clock, having marched through streets, which were crowded with enthusiastic onlookers. The King's guests assembled on the garden errace attired in uniform or levee dress. At 4 o'clock the King, wearing the uniform of a Field Marshal, arrived, accompanied by the Queen, who was leading her little granddaughter, Princess Victoria Alexandra of Wales. They were followed by

RESTORING RAILWAY TO CHINA. France Consents to Present Arrangement but Russia Holds Out.

Special Cable Despatch to TRE SUN PREIN, Aug. 12.- The consent of the French was given yesterday afternoon to the restoration of the Pekin-Shanhaikwan Railway to the Chinese according to the terms of the present argreement, with reservations pertaining to the right of the French to construct Tientsin-Paoting-fu This consent, however, does not insure the restoration of the Pekin-Shanhaikwan line as Russia has not yet agreed to relinquish a small section of the railway from the Shanhaikwan station to the Great Wall, which she declares is necessary to her operation of the Shanhaikwan-Newchwang line. Russia says she is willing to relinquish this section when the English relinguish the part of the line held by them. Viceroy Yuan Shih Kai will visit the Russian Minister here while on his way to Tientsin to have the jurisdiction of the native city of Tientsin turned over to him in accordance with the recent agreement. He is not hopeful of the railway being restored soon. He has thanked Mr. Conger for the aid of the United States in obtain

TWO CHICAGO COPS KILLED

BY BURGLARS WHOM THEY WERE TRYING TO CAPTURE.

Thieves Were Getting Away When They Turned in an Alley and Fired and Both Bullets Went Straight to the Mark - The Murderers Not Yet Caught

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 12.-Two policemen were shot down in an alley shortly before o'clock this morning. Both died soon after the shooting. Their assailants were two burglars who were caught in an attempt to rob the house of Dr. Harry Shaw, on Ashland Boulevard. Both men escaped. The policemen were Timothy Devine, shot through the heart, and Charles Pennell, shot through the abdomen. The encounter was at the rear of the residence of Dr. Shaw, in the alley running between Ashland Boulevard and Laffi street. Meagre details of it were gasped out by the wounded bluecoat, Pennell, as he lay dying at the hospital. The police-men detected the work of the thieves as they stood at the entrance of the alley. The burglars ran for the back fence. As they clambered over the policemen received them with a volley. They were not hit and rushed on out of the alley past the policemen, into West Jackson Boulevard. As they passed they turned and fired squarely at the policemen.

Both bluecoats fell mortally wounded each by a single shot. The fleeing robber ran west to Ashland Boulevard, firing a stray shot or two as they ran. The fleeing robbers

SENATOR ARKELL DEAD. Paper Sack Maker, Wit, Politician and

Father of W J. Arkell of "Judge." CANAJOHARIE, N. Y., Aug. 12.-Former State Senator James Arkell died at 1 o'clock this morning of a disease of the kidneys. He had been ill for three months. The funeral will take place on Thursday morning. The body will be cremated at Troy.

Mr. Arkell was born Oct. 16, 1829, at Berks,

England, and was a descendant of Sir Hugh De Aracle and Sir George Rooke, names famous in English history. His family moved to Canajoharie, N. Y., in 1840. Prolonged illness and lack of means forced him to abandon his plans for a college education. His first effort as a public speaker was a Free Soil address. He became a popular speaker principally on agricultural topics, and was in great de-mand throughout central New York. As a farmer he introduced the first mowing machine in Montgomery county, as well as the horse fork and tile draining. Out of friendship for a struggling printer, who was a deaf mute, Mr. Arkeil for years edited the Canajoharie Radii, without compensation and it was through this occompensation and it was through this oc-cupation that he engaged in the manufact-ure of and printing of paper flour sacks, a business he started in 1850 with the late Adam Smith. The plant is Canajoharie's principal industry, giving employment to hundreds of people. In politics he was a Republican and a power in his party. After a hard fight in 1883, he was elected State enator, succeeding the late Webster Wagner.

Mr. Arkell was on intimate terms with many men of national prominence and had frequently entertained Senator Depew, Vice-President Levi P. Morton, George H. Daniels, of the Central-Hudson Railroad and others at his beautiful residence in Canajoharie. He was a close friend of Gen. Grant and passed many hours with him during his last illness at Mount McGregor, near Satatoga. Mr. Arkell had travelled and read extensively. He had a wonderfully and read extensively.
